Redefining Environmentalism

Wednesday, February 2, 2005

12:00 for 12:30 start

The Celtic Club

48 Ord Street, West Perth

*$75 (incl. GST) per head
Lunch and drinks provided*

We all want to do our bit for the environment. But will the policies of the environmental establishment actually deliver a better environment? Dr Jennifer Marohasy will argue that the current philosophical position is out of date, conflicts with the realities of evolutionary history and human need, and cannot deliver environmental protection or a better world. Dr Marohasy will outline five principles that could define a new approach to environmental issues – an evidence-based approach that accords with how natural systems actually operate and that embraces, rather than rejects, technological innovation.
