MINE YOUR OWN BUSINESS

MINE YOUR OWN BUSINESS follows Gheorge, a 23-year-old unemployed miner from Romania whose life has been put on hold because of an anti-mining campaign.

MINE YOUR OWN BUSINESS cuts to the heart of the development question of the 21st century—who chooses what a developing nation can do with their own resources? Mine Your Own Business is a powerful film about the hopes of people living in poverty and about misguided environmentalism.

Directed by former Financial Times journalist Phelim McAleer, MINE YOUR OWN BUSINESS exposes the motivations of those attempting to stop economic development in the name of the environment.
